

BBC Salford

After an easy journey by train to Salford, Local History Group 6 arrived at Media City for a midday tour of BBC Studios. Each tour is different because of rehearsals, recordings etc. on the day and the BBC rents 4 buildings at Media City from Peel Developments. BBC Manchester started radio broadcasting from Manchester in 1922, opened their first TV studios outside London in Dickenson Road, before moving to Oxford Road Studios in 1976. They relocated to Media City in 2011 and Sport, Children's, Learning, Future Media and Technology and Radio Five Live are all based there.

We walked across to Dock House, the base for radio broadcasting. DJ Brenda was in the hot seat, "driving the desk," with "Producer" Jeanette, whilst BBC's Mark Radcliffe sat the other side of the glass, in the larger studio, doing the real stuff. We then moved on to the Studios, which the BBC uses and also rents to other broadcasters and amongst other things is used for “Let It Shine” and “Countdown.” We were fortunate to be taken into the BBC Philharmonic Studio, a fascinating room with incredible acoustics and gizmos, as you would expect. Some members were elated to find that they could obtain entry to watch the orchestra rehearse.

We then crossed over to Quay House, well-known to most for its broadcasting of BBC

Breakfast, North West Tonight and the base for BBC Sport, including Match of the Day. Jean and Sadie became our hosts for “Breakfast,” reading from the auto-cue and broadcasting to the adjacent group whilst Barbara was our “weather girl” doing a sterling job ad-libbing without a script and giving an excellent forecast, based solely on the weather screen. We then moved up to the second floor, the studio proper, where the group met BBC presenter Roger Johnson who took time from his busy schedule to speak to the group about presenting the BBC’s North West Tonight programme.

The group found the visit fascinating and, having thanked the organisers, took free time to look around the remainder of the area before independently making their way back to Formby by train.

When The Going Gets Tough!

A select number of Walking Group 6 set out for a walk from Clapham, up Clapdale and Trow Gill to Gaping Gill and onto Little Ingleborough. The remainder of the group, possibly anticipating the conditions on the day, took a wise decision to instead search abroad for the sun. Despite it being a sunny day, a significant amount of snow had fallen overnight on the fells and that, together with the gale force winds meant that when you put your foot down you had no idea where it would finish up. Hence, when we reached Little Ingleborough, we thought it best to abandon our intended 10 mile walk via Ingleborough itself and then down below Simon Fell towards Horton-in-Ribblesdale, onto the limestone pavement, Long Scar, Thwaite and back to Clapham and we had, instead to settle for a shorter 5½ mile walk back down to Newby and then return to our start. At least we can keep the original walk on file for another occasion! The group has some vacancies and if any U3A members would like to join us, we meet on the 4th Thursday of the month. Please contact Bill Farr on 870448, or e-mail scottfarr@talktalk.net for more details.

Getting Involved In Research

The Third Age Trust has produced a guide "Getting Involved in Research" in response to the growing interest in research within the U3A movement. It provides some basic guidelines on developing research projects. If you would like a copy please contact me so that I can order copies for you from the National Office. In addition to the guide, a large number of projects are already in the TAT National Research Database and can be accessed at www.u3aresearch.org.uk

Keswick

Like Ann, Lakeland is my favourite place, and once again we had a wonderful day. The only downside was a lady fell at the Motorway Services and had to be taken to Lancaster Hospital. As we continued on our way to the Lakes, spring was really in the air, with many lambs, banks of daffodils in the villages and large clusters of gorse on the hillsides. We had a good lunch at the Lodore Hotel and then motored to Keswick for a boat trip on Derwentwater. We then had some free time in the town. Coming home the sun suddenly came out and lit up the landscape in an amazing way, thus completing another of Ann's well run days. Many thanks to her for all her hard work arranging everything.

First Aid

Members may already be aware that St John Ambulance volunteers attend the monthly meetings, but what would happen at any other time to you, your family, or friends? A step by step guide exists that takes you through a sequence of questions and advises you what you need to do to help a person. If you have a smart phone or tablet and want further information, you can download the "app" "St John Ambulance First Aid" from your provider's playstore, appleshop etc. Alternately, if you would rather have a free pocket sized guide, these can be ordered on-line at:

Outings are open to all paid up members of the U3A. All we ask is that you have the ability to get on and off the coach independently. We cannot be responsible for providing assistance. The coach can accommodate mobility aids which are kept in the luggage compartment on the bus.

If no contact details are provided, I am unable to contact people when outings are fully booked.

Bookings and information are available at U3A monthly meetings, or coffee mornings. Alternatively please send a stamp addressed envelope to:
