Malham

Author, Mike Williams.

The Fellwalking Group started walking again in August. Twelve members walked with some sharing cars, others opting to travel separately. The group met in Malham and the weather was good with the threat of a shower about lunchtime. We headed south on the Pennine Way to Hanlith and then climbed steadily over Hanlith Moor, with fine views over Malham, to the Trig Point at Weets Top at a height of 414m. Then we descended slightly to pick up a path through fields to the old monastic highway known as Mastiles Lane and passed the faint remains of an old Roman camp towards Malham Tarn. After lunch the route turned along the rough rocky path through Malham Lings which eventually brought us out onto the limestone pavement above the Cove where we encountered a large number of sightseers. The descent down plus the walk for the last half mile was crowded but it was nice to see so many people enjoying the scenery. No rain showers! The walk was 9.8 miles and we climbed about 1,500 ft.

Open Day

Formby U3A has an Open Day planned for Saturday 23rd October at Holy Trinity Church Hall, Formby, 10:30-4:00 to show case to the wider Formby audience what a talented and diverse group we are. There will be groups on show in the hall, musical performances, displays, a quiz, free cake and tea/ coffee. This is part of our recruitment drive so please come and support us and bring along friends and family who may wish to join us!

Rivington

Author, Bill Farr.

Walking Group 6 was pleased to welcome some new members to its September walk at Rivington, balancing the makeup to 7 men and 7 ladies currently in the group. The walk circled the moors around the reservoirs, with an add on to the replica of Liverpool Castle at the end, before enjoying a scone, cream and jam in the cafe.

The October walk is to Bickerton Hills, Cheshire, whilst the November walk will be around the Halykn Mountain in N. Wales. If there are any U3A members wishing to give the group a trial, there are vacancies. Please contact Bill Farr, the group leader. Further details can be found on the Formby U3A website, groups section.

A-RIDERS

Author, Pam Ashton, Co-leader of the Cycling Group and Groups Secretary.

We are a subset of the Tuesday Cycling Group and try always to ride each week, meeting at the usual place, Formby Station at 9:30am. We wear warm gear in winter, use mudguards and like to visit a cafe for a hot drink at the furthest point. Our distances tend to be about 25 miles in winter and 35 miles or so in summer, sometimes more. We can accommodate another couple of people in the A Riders group who are able to do that distance at a reasonable pace. Women, of course, are welcome as well as men! If interested, please contact me by 'phone 832923 or email: groups@formbyu3a.org.uk

Life On Board

Author, Elizabeth Goodwill.

The recently opened Life on Board Gallery at the Maritime Museum was the venue for Local History Group 6's September visits. This fascinating display covers the period from the 1700s to the present day. It explores the stories of Liverpool's seafarers and passengers, highlighting the stories of the merchant sailors, as well as tales of the people who sailed aboard leisure liners. Several group members were able to elaborate on their own experiences working on-board, or fitting out vessels they had been associated with. One revealing display focused on the loss of the MV Derbyshire. The Derbyshire, a Liverpool registered ship owned by the local firm, Bibby Line, sank in 1976 and was the biggest British registered merchant ship ever to have been lost at sea. The crews' families had a prolonged fight for an enquiry which eventually exonerated their relatives and made long overdue recommendations for the safety of all ships.

The group's next visit explores some of the overlooked buildings in Southport.

Strawberry Fields

Author, Judith Aspinwall.

September brought Local History Group 9 members out of hiding and divided into two groups, we ventured out to Strawberry Fields. It was a truly relaxing day in the beautiful gardens displaying different zones with the obvious John Lennon connections. His meaningful quotes were dotted round the gardens with references to Peace dominant. The guide, Ethan, was brill and we were all stunned to learn that this was the first tour he had led. We equally enjoyed the indoor visitor exhibition making use of individual media guides. The story of Lennon's life really came to life and prompted so many memories. The tour also gave appropriate details on the part played by the Salvation Army in helping more vulnerable members of society in the past and today with their Steps at Strawberry Field project helping the disadvantage to gain work skills. The items on the cafe lunch menu were delicious and we appreciated the friendly and helpful staff in the restaurant and shop. All profits benefit the Salvation Army charity project. Interesting to note that breakfasts are served there as well as afternoon teas so why not plan an outing there.

Groups News

Author, Pam Ashton, Groups Secretary.

We have had a lovely return to face to face meetings in September with a very good attendance at the coffee morning which was actually an afternoon with cakes! It was lovely to meet everyone and there was a great enthusiasm for re-joining and signing up for groups. By the time this newsletter goes out the Group Leaders and new members will also have met and shared experiences.

If you cannot access the contact details of these Group Leaders on the Formby U3A website, or are still having difficulty joining a group of your choice, or wish to see a new group set up, please contact the Groups Secretary but please remember that new groups need leaders and members to help start them. Either e-mail groups@formbyu3a.org.uk or 'phone 832923.

Special Announcements

Anyone For Tennis? If a few members would like to set up a tennis group we understand that coaching is available for a group of eight people. Please contact the Groups Secretary for further details.

Line Dancing: Would you be interested in a Line-dancing class? We may already have a few people interested but there is room for lots more. Formby U3A will help find a tutor (or leader) and is happy to help pay for the first few sessions to get the class up and running. Line dancing is a fun way to keep fit! When we see who is interested we will decide on when and where the class will take place. If you are interested please contact Pam Ashton, Formby U3A Groups Secretary, Ambling or Walking: Now that you are meeting face to face you may wish to go for a walk with a group of other members. Unfortunately both Walking Group 1 and Amblers 1 have folded. If this leaves you without a walk with friends please let me know. If there is enough demand we can get together at a coffee morning and discuss establishing new groups. I also have an offer of help with an Amblers Group and a few people have told me that they have some described walks.

New Book Group, Group 4: Steve Whitefield started the new book group on Monday 13th September and he wants it to reflect the reading preferences of men as well as women. It meets at 11:00am on the 2nd Monday of the month and there is still plenty of time to join and places to fill. If you are interested please contact Steve 830540 or 0776 038 0265 or e-mail stevewhitefield@btinternet.com

Pilates is an activity which is really good for all your muscles and joints and a gentle pilates is best for older people. We think we may not have a tutor amongst the members so Formby U3A is prepared to help pay a tutor for the first few sessions to get a group going. We are now looking for a tutor so please contact the Groups Secretary if you are interested in joining a pilates group.

Local History: The popularity of Local History means that most of the Formby U3A groups are full and as soon as a vacancy appears it is snapped up. I shall therefore be getting as many Local History Group leaders as possible together with interested members to see if we can set up a new group. I hope to do this in October so watch this space!

Metal Detecting: Some progress has been made with a metal detecting group. Bob Giess is helping to start a group up and will be receiving some help from the Wallasey metal detecting group in November. There are a lot of rules to know about with this hobby so it is important to learn from others. As with other start-ups, Formby U3A is happy to fund a bit of start-up help. If you are interested please contact the Groups Secretary.
